AMPL Patrons,

The Indiana State Library has temporarily suspended resource sharing capabilities through all Evergreen libraries. They have terminated the new contracted courier service and are transitioning back to the old provider. What this means for you:

- Holds can only be placed on items located at your home library.
- Existing holds from other libraries are temporarily suspended. You will receive these items once deliveries resume.
- Deliveries are projected to resume on Monday, September 11th.
- Resource sharing across Evergreen libraries will resume on September 17th.

We apologize for the continued frustrations and inconvenience this is causing. AMPL staff will be working diligently to help provide as many resource options as possible for materials we do not currently have. We will continue to provide updates as we know more.

Thank you,
